

You are the work of art!

For whatever theme you have in mind, Little Miss Henna has perfected the art of personalization. Since 1998 when owner Melanie Marcus launched with henna tattoos, the path to success was set – creating one-of-a-kind masterpieces that are customized to whatever the client has in mind.

First to bring their wildly successful temporary body art tattoos to the Bar/Bat Mitzvah scene, Little Miss Henna has a growing list of satisfied clients including theme parks in both Canada and the US. The company offers face painting and fun caricatures, decals and tattoos as well a full line of giveaways.

Airbrushing and hot pressing are among the capabilities of Little Miss Henna's talented staff, all of which are real artists. "Each application is done freehand so kids take home their own customized work of art," says Melanie.

The tattoos are a real favourite with kids, and can be done with glimmer, shimmer, glow in the dark or Swarovski crystal. "We're booked every weekend. They love it!" says Melanie. To keep it fresh, Melanie continually adds to her line of fun products and services, including glitter tattoos and the latest craze, coloured feather hair extensions that can last up to months.

Little Miss Henna might not scream Bar Mitzvah, but don't let the name fool you. For a hockey theme, kids took home cool hockey jerseys with their name on the back. Music themes are popular with air brushed designs of pop stars or graphics. At a camp theme party, kids chose a camp rug, pillowcase or laundry bag and staff air brushed their camp name, cabin #'s ready for camp.

Melanie is available to bring samples to your home. "Based on the time of year and theme, you select the item(s) you want the design on: sweats, snuggies, pj's, caps, toques, knapsacks, pillowcases," says Melanie.

There's always a new way to personalize your party, limited only by your imagination. Contact Melanie at 905-731-0067 or visit littlemisshenna.com
